

Princess Yachts announces return to the under 40 foot market

Monday, 01 August 2011

Princess Yachts International is delighted to announce the addition of an exciting new model to their V Class range of sports yachts. Fast, agile and spacious, the new V39 marks a stunning return to the under 40-foot arena for the brand.

For the first time in over a decade, there is a new Princess below 40 feet opening up a whole new category for the Company and providing a very welcome proposition for those who prefer smaller craft yet still demand the very best in style, performance and quality – in short a Princess.

A unique hull design and powerful Volvo D6-330 engines fitted as standard ensure the new V39 is both exhilarating and economical with quick transition to plane and highly efficient cruising speeds.

Her interior is light and spacious and, as with every Princess, she is finished with the finest materials, craftsmanship and detailing throughout. The large saloon and well equipped galley combine for a highly sociable entertaining space and both cabins are generously proportioned and contemporary styled. The forward cabin has an en-suite bathroom with secondary access to the saloon whilst the aft cabin can be fitted with optional sliding berths to provide easy conversion to a double when required.

She has also been designed to be as practical as she is elegant with an expansive teak-laid cockpit complete with large wetbar and generous seating, a transom platform large enough to accommodate a tender and ample storage throughout.

The new V39 is set to redefine the standard for her size category and in keeping with the rest of the Princess V Class range, she truly is a sports cruiser without compromise. Princess will be release more details and images at the Southampton Boat Show.
